My Sight Nottinghamshire is a local charity which promotes greater independence for visually impaired people of all ages throughout the county by providing emotional support, practical advice, information and training together with a huge range of adapted leisure activities, helping local visually impaired people to live life to the full.

Live life to the full

The charity is at the forefront of the local voluntary sector, providing services that empower visually impaired people to live more independently and achieve their true potential within their own community. We campaign on a range of local issues that impact on the quality of life of visually impaired people and we work hard to raise awareness of good eye health in a bid to minimise the devastating impact of avoidable sight loss within our local communities.
